Dedication

Dear Nanny,

I had fun fun fun today — this woman, she is rather unusual, has a turtle like Skipadec and I gave this turtle, Turtel, a ride on this record by Dylan Thomas which was a muchly lot of the hugest words! This woman she is my mostly favoritest person here. Every afternoon she rests because she is tired tired tired from her most absolutely full day teaching English and then I find her glasses and she reads to me Scribbler's Club themes while I braid Turtel's cars so he won't get cross and develop a rash like Skipadec, my turtle does. One of these stories was about this most terriblest storm that came up and it rained and all this thunder was clomping itself into this water and all these people were drowning without air and oh! It was absolutely awfulest, but she says it is just a story and then we skibble down to the Social Room — it's this monstrously big room — and this woman says, "Shall we settle down?" and I say, "Shall we settle down?" and then she says, "Let's begin!" and I say, "Let's begin!" and oooooo she absolutely directs plays most wonderfully!

This woman, my mostest companion, is tremendously loved by all here as much as by me and so they dedicate this 1957 Quill Pen to her, Miss Julianne Lynn.

Love,
ME "ELOISE"

Foreword . . .

The elusive quality that permeates the atmosphere of Salem is most successfully defined as a way of life. This year we have an elusive and lovable little character, Eloise, who flirts through the pages, depicting the moods and means of our life at Salem that each of us, student and faculty, has contributed to. As the pages unfold and our days unravel the smorgasbordian array of one hundred Eloises laugh, cry, study, and play through a productive year—each unique yet united by the mystical bond that represents Salem.

Senior Class

Summer wealth of memories waned and the fall, a variegated panorama was upon us bringing in its leafy arms our Senior year. This was really our year and a feeling of warmth suffused the class as we realized that for once we were the oldest and took over Salem on Senior Day. Cash slips, charge accounts, and adding machines ushered in the annual Christmas Senior Bazaar. Whoever dreamed that rings flavored tea?

Finally the last flurry of excitement, graduation invitations, calling cards, the Senior-Faculty breakfast, Class Day, and Graduation. The oldest became the youngest once more.

*"There will be an important
Junior class meeting
in the history room"*

is a very familiar announcement made over the switchboard. Many a day the Juniors trudged up the steps for more secrets and plans — such as selling coffee and doughnuts, selling Christmas cards, keeping the Duck Inn, and giving the auction, which were the forerunners of the one big event, the Junior-Senior.

Congratulations, Juniors and Miss Bryson, their sponsor, for all your hard work on the unforgettable Junior-Senior, one of the climaxes of this wonderful year.

Lights off, a projector hums, eyes stay glued to the screen, and Sophomores offer entertainment in the form of a motion picture, "Young Bess."

The minstrel show, a new version of the traditional talent show, was the result of a lot of hard work on the part of the Sophomores and Miss Kline, the Sophomore sponsor.

Another project of the Sophomores is the annual Tea Dance presented during the Junior-Senior week end in honor of the graduating class. At this time, the Senior beauty queen is presented with a bouquet of roses by the Sophomore president.

"Right this way, ladies!" Sink the ship, bob for an apple, visit the spook house, throw a wet sponge at Miss Nunn. Maybe you would rather guess the number of beans, have your fortune told, vote for Mr. Salem, or perhaps view some of the faculty's baby pictures. And don't forget the food, candy, tarts, doughnuts, and soft drinks galore to be gobbled up by hungry Salem-ites!! These were the pleasures enjoyed by all when the Freshmen rolled out the red carpet for their annual Freshman Carnival.

Red, white, and blue waves in the sky as energetic Freshmen hoist the American flag up into the breeze, another weekly duty of our underclassmen.

Miss Chappell, their sponsor, capably backed these girls in their undertakings of the year and started the Freshmen on their way to becoming Seniors.

Student Council

President of Student Body
CLARKIE PENNINGTON

The Council consists of representatives from the dormitories, which include a president, President of Honor Council, one representative from each of the six halls, two Senior Counselors, and a day student.

These representatives elected by the students are always ready to help others and set an example of a good Salem student.

Every girl at Salem is a member of the student government and upholds the rules and regulations of the Student Council. A meeting is held once a week to discuss dormitory life, make new rules, and discard old ones. The Student Council is always for the betterment of dormitory life.

The Student Council sponsors the opening banquet of the year, the Christmas banquet and servants' party, and the Spirit Fire service held at the end of the year, at which newly elected Student Council members receive their offices for the coming year.

Honor Council

Honor is the most treasured yet the most intangible possession at Salem. Each girl strives to uphold the rules and the honor set up by the Honor Council. This council, composed of the president, the President of the Student Council, one senior, two juniors, one sophomore, one freshman, and a faculty advisor, deals with matters relating to honor, especially in regard to study halls and academic work. The council is not set up to punish girls, but rather to help them to obtain a higher sense of integrity. But without the support of the whole student body, the Honor Council is only a name.

President of Honor Council
PAT SPENCER

HONOR COUNCIL MEMBERS—Seated: Pat Spencer, Lou Whitaker, Cathy Byrd, Martha Hubbard, Madi Magner, Clarkie Pennington. On floor: Gray Preston, Sandra Bullard.

Salem

Honor Graduates

Each year the two Seniors with the highest scholastic averages are announced as the Honor Graduates for that year. This, our highest academic honor, is not without meaning, but denotes the hard work and diligence leading toward this goal. Our Honor Graduates this year are Donna Griffith from Knoxville, Tennessee, and Bebe Whitaker from Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Honor Graduates
BEBE WHITAKER, DONNA GRIFFITH

Citizenship Honor

Thoughtfulness, consideration, cheerfulness—these are but a few of the requirements for our Citizenship Honor girls. Each year the student body elects those girls whom they believe to be exemplary Salem citizens and honor them for their citizenship. To be able to smile when the day seems long, to lend a helping hand with a mountain of work looming ahead of you, to accept things as guideposts and not the end — do you know anyone who fits this pattern? We can name a few.

Honors

Academic Marshals

One of the most cherished honors at Salem Academy is that of Academic Marshal. These seven girls are chosen by the senior class to serve at commencement and include:

Amy Lou Phillips, Lele Follin, Sandra Bullard, Marguerite Hines, Martha Hubbard, Cathy Byrd, Lou Whitaker. Accompanist: Mary Cochran.

Quill Pen

Publication of an annual is in itself a venture of faith. The only way to do the job is to do the interesting work well and the drudgery a little better. Success can mean a certain inner satisfaction that often counterbalances the tangible result. Amid piles of copy, pert sketches, and photographs the Quill Pen 1957 became a manifestation of reality and everyone smiled in silent pleasure and pride when the finger-printed dummy took its last trip to the engravers. While the editorial staff let their imaginations run wild with new and different ideas, the inspired business staff faithfully overcame sales resistance and made even our wildest hopes possible this year. Our sponsor Miss Vandiver persisted in getting things done and we all appreciate her help and energy.

Scribblers' Club

The favorite motto of the budding writers in the Scribblers' Club is "The first hundred years are the hardest," or more appropriately, the first four years are the hardest. This saying may very well be true, but once a month we get together and read our attempts at creative writing. The helpful criticism, well earned praise, constructive suggestions, and original ideas, both voiced by and directed to the members at these meetings, certainly helps to make the struggle a little easier. We have the opportunity several times a year to see our creative writing in print in the form of the Omnibus. We also have a hand in Pencil Shavings, which is sent out during the summers with little snatches and advice to keep us in touch with the school and our friends.

Dramatics Club

Lights—quiet—curtain going up! All is the thrill of the Dramatics Club. Each Salem up-and-coming actress awaits breathlessly the moment that she is to make her appearance. Behind the scenes, the crewmen, lightmen, propmen, even the little curtain puller has her mind set on making the play a success. And they are successful too! Thanks to Miss Lynn the Dramatics Club has put on three smash hits, "Aria de Capo," "Sunday's Child," and "The Importance of Being Earnest," to be given this spring. Also, this spring the Dramatics Club and Glee Club combined will present a program of Gershwin hits.

A round of applause to the make-up committee too! They have transformed Salem girls into farmers, detectives, shepherds and even preachers.

And so each actress of tomorrow fights to get her part and to obtain her ten points "admission fee" and — who knows — maybe some day we'll say, gazing up at the neon lights above a theater, "Why, I used to go to school with her!"

GLEE CLUB PRESIDENT—Nancy Coulter.

Glee Club

“How now brown cow” — Bring back memories. Glee Clubbers? Memories of Tuesdays and Fridays when we have our “ne na ney” work-outs with our wonderful director Mr. Paul Peterson. It doesn’t take a whole lot of talent, either, just the desire to sing and by the time you are through you feel like Madame Butterfly! It’s great—especially when you never knew you could sing.

The Glee Club gives many performances throughout the school year, which are enjoyed by everyone. At Christmas time they sang at the Moravian Church and other places. Also a Christmas pageant was given, to which many parents and friends came. This spring a program of Gershwin hits will be given.

So our Glee Club sings on, filling the halls of Salem and our hearts with laughter and song.

Spiritual Steering Wheel

One of the most important of our organizations at Salem is the religious one, the Spiritual Steering Wheel. The S.S.W. sponsors nightly devotions which are given by the girls on each hall, Sunday Vespers, and Friday night devotions which are presented by the students.

The S.S.W. also sponsors Religious Emphasis

Week. During this week we have a speaker who gives us an inspiring message and helps us with our problems.

The purpose of the S.S.W. is to instill in each girl the faith that is necessary to carry her through Salem.

Dance Committee

"Shall we dance?"—We wouldn't if it weren't for the wonderful ingenious dance committee. Their's isn't an easy job either, the planning and decorating for each dance. But each dance seems to be an even bigger success than the one before it, and each girl looks forward to them with excitement and enthusiasm. The afternoon before a dance certain girls are nowhere to be seen! You'll find them down in the Social Room or Dining Room, nails and thumbtacks in mouth, industriously putting up decorations or on a high ladder adjusting lights, magically turning the room into a wonderland.

Committee Chairmen

The various committees of Salem are the Service Committee, the Social Committee, the Good Will Committee, the Program Committee, the World Service Committee, and the Standards Committee. At the first of the year, each girl chooses the committee she would like to be on for the year, although she supports them all. After the first six weeks, heads of the committees are selected. These girls are to be commended for their fine work.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN—Martha Thomas, Betty Carmichael, Lyle Follin, Susan Hardwick, Sandra Bullard.

The purpose of the Junior Red Cross is to promote good will between us and the young people of foreign countries and to bring happiness into the lives of the old, sick, and helpless. Members of Salem's chapter of the American Junior Red Cross attempt to carry out these objectives by pledging service, time, and money to the various projects of the Salem Chapter. The girls have found this service not only satisfying and worthwhile, but a lot of fun. The girls knowing how to knit have knitted squares for the afghan. Miss Krouskup, the sponsor of Salem's Junior Red Cross Chapter, even got the faculty working on afghan squares. Other girls have filled gift boxes to be sent overseas to foreign students, while still others have attended meetings of the Winston-Salem Junior Red Cross Council of which Salem's chapter is an active member.

Latin Club

No longer will the old traditional saying, "Latin is a dead language, as dead as it can be. First it killed the Romans, and now it's killing me," be recited by Latin students and heard echoing in the halls of Salem, because this year, for the first time, we belong to the Junior Classical League. We all had a wonderful time at the state convention in Chapel Hill, where we learned more about what Latin students at other schools are doing to make the subject more interesting. Among other things we performed in several entertaining and educational Latin plays during the year and held many challenging contests and spelling bees.

Under Miss Kline's supervision we have indeed discovered that Latin is not yet a dead language, but that it can be as lively as we care to make it.

Athletic Council

The athletic council at Salem governs all of the school's athletic activities. It is composed of the heads of the Purples and Golds, Nancy Penn and Carol Rice, with the elected girls who head the major and individual sports. Miss Bryson, the athletic instructor sponsors the council and its activities. Some of these activities include morning walks during the fall and spring months and various games and tournaments throughout the year. Among the highlights of the school year are the Athletic Banquets given at the end of each sports season. Recognition Day is the top moment, climaxing the year by presenting awards to the girls for their outstanding athletic achievements. The awards for the year are given by the heads of the Purples and Golds. At the close of the program the coveted cup, Salem's symbol of outstanding athletic achievements, is awarded to the team which has won the most points during the year.

Growing Up With Opportunity

While you've been growing up and "getting educated", opportunity has been growing, too. All around you, industry and business have multiplied. Electrification has increased farm yield while cutting down on labor and risk.

When you were sophomores, the Duke Power Company was beginning new plants to supply your power needs after graduation. Now ample, low-priced power increases your job opportunity, and Piedmont resources are ready for your energy and ideas. Good luck to you as you find your place in the Piedmont Carolinas.
